

Celebrating Nursing Science: The Research-Practice Link

Conference Highlights

As part of the year long celebration marking the 20th anniversary of the National Institute of Nursing Research (NINR), NINR and the Clinical Center, Nursing and Patient Care Services are pleased to announce a conference to celebrate achievements in clinical nursing research and their application to practice.

Program Objectives

1. Highlight programs of research with strong relevance to practice.
2. Explore ways in which practice informs clinical nursing research.
3. Describe examples of nursing research findings that have been meaningfully and successfully translated into practice.

Where

The conference will be held at the National Institutes of Health in the Masur Auditorium, Bethesda, Maryland
